The crashing economy has hit Arizona hard. Jobs have vanished. Families have cut back everywhere. State tax revenues have fallen 35 percent, to levels not seen since 2004. In response, Governor Brewer and state leaders have slashed spending by record amounts – more than $2.2 billion in all. These cuts have been felt deeply in our schools and neighborhoods, and in reductions to the sick and those in need.

Still, Arizona cannot make ends meet. Without more revenue, the state will need to cut another $1 billion immediately.

If that happens, K-12 schools will lose yet another $420 million. Higher education, another $100 million. Public safety will suffer an $85 million hit, while health and human services will lose another $110 million.

Cuts like these will hurt our quality of life, hurt our student's chances of success and slow Arizona's economic recovery.

The solution? Proposition 100.

Proposition 100 is a temporary sales tax that expires in three years, per the state Constitution. A "yes" vote on 100 will raise $1 billion a year, money directed by law to schools, public safety and health care.

While no one loves a tax increase, Proposition 100 is the responsible solution for Arizona. It's a difficult choice, but the right choice – a temporary revenue solution that will help us compete moving forward and protect the frayed safety net so many Arizonans need in tough times.

That's why Arizonans from all walks of life and all political parties have joined together to help YES ON 100.
